INSTRUCTIONAL COACHING

Credential Program

A YEAR-LONG SUPPORTED LEARNING COMMUNITY: 2020 - 2021

EDGEWOOD COLLEGE PROFESSIONAL AND CONTINUING EDUCATION

Edgewood College is providing a credentialing program that offers current and aspiring instructional coaches the opportunity to:

- Explore the identity of a coach, understand the power of coaching, and develop capabilities to support the varied roles that coaches serve in schools and districts.
- Gain the skills necessary to be successful in a coach's core responsibilities: data facilitation, instructional coaching, and professional development design.
- Experience the ongoing support of a coaching cohort, problem-solving with colleagues, and consultation/coaching across the school year.

PROGRAM DESIGN

Meeting approximately monthly, these Saturday sessions will provide the research-based practices that align with effective instructional coaching. Between these sessions, participants will be asked to apply learning in their school or district contexts, culminating in short reflective papers.

Each session will include time to problem-solve around setting-specific issues, and participants will receive resources that support their growing coaching practice.

NOTE: The sessions are intended to be in face-to-face format. However, contingency plans are being developed for distance learning. This program will follow State of Wisconsin guidelines and Edgewood College practice regarding F2F or distance learning. After registration, participants will be kept up to date on related developments. During the program, adjustments to the schedule and class length might have to be made, but will be done collaboratively with cohort participants.

INTENDED PARTICIPANTS

Current or aspiring instructional coaches at the school or district level including literacy or math coaches, positive behavior support coaches, peer coaches, program support teachers, and administrators integrating coaching into their support of teachers.

REGISTER at Quick Enroll <http://pd.edgewood.edu> – Coach Program 1

All sessions will be held at Edgewood College, 1000 Edgewood College Dr., Madison, WI.

1. FOUNDATIONS OF COACHING Sessions: Saturdays 9:00am - 2:00pm

Instructional coaching provides a critical component in a systematic approach to professional development. Coaching is most optimally contextualized in an adaptive school. The first three meetings will focus on the “why” and “what” of coaching including the research and theory of effective coaching practices. Beginning coaching scaffolds will be provided, and guided practice in planning and reflective conversations will be a regular session feature.

September 26, 2020

- Why coaching?
- What is coaching?
- What are some initial coaching practices?

October 24, 2020

- What is an adaptive school?
- What are adaptive practices? In what ways is coaching adaptive?
- Mastering planning coaching conversations

November 14, 2020

- How is adaptivity related to inquiry, self-directedness and collaboration?
- How is trust developed? Deepened?
- Mastering reflective coaching conversations

2. CORE RESPONSIBILITIES OF A COACH Sessions: Saturdays 9:00am - 2:00pm

Coaches serve an array of roles in schools. Three specific roles that are core responsibilities of coaches are:

- Facilitation of data dialogue
- Developing instructional coaching cycles
- Designing & delivering high-quality professional development

Each of the winter sessions will offer helpful strategies, approaches, tools and skills to support growth in these three roles.

December 5, 2020

- How can coaching conversations become integrated into teaching cycles?
- How does a coach facilitate the collection of data in a coaching cycle?

January 9, 2021

- What are different ways of talking? Why does knowing the difference matter?
- What is Data Dialogue?
- What processes help facilitate authentic engagement in data work?
- How does a coach guide data study from analysis to action?

January 30, 2021

- What does research suggest about effective professional development?
- What PD standards, models and methods of evaluation support this research?
- How does a coach design and deliver effective professional development?

3. DEEPENING OF ROLES Sessions: Saturdays 9:00am - 2:00pm

Coaches act as change agents. Continuing to learn about systems for coaching, we will also explore key strategies and ideas that create optimal conditions for change. Specific strategies and ideas include: problem solving conversations, engaging in difficult conversations, examining ethical dimensions of a coach's work and attending to unproductive behaviors in groups. Coaches will apply their learning by working with a team on a professional learning experience.

February 20, 2021

- How do coaches affect change by exploring identity and beliefs?
- What systems help support effective and regular coaching cycles?
- Why is it important to clearly communicate the coach's role to all staff?
- How does a school create a system for coaching?

March 13, 2021

- What is a Problem Resolving Conversation?
- How might one support others when they have problems?
- How does one intervene when a person is stuck?

April 10, 2021

- How can we increase our social intelligence through each other's professional learning experience?
- How have I grown during this year?
- Why are endings so important in our work?

COHORT FACILITATORS/PRESENTERS: Kelly Jones and Ron Lott co-facilitate the sessions.

Ron Lott has over 15 years' experience in designing professional development for coaches. He teaches a graduate course in teacher leadership at Edgewood College and believes that the practice of coaching offers the greatest potential for individual and organizational change.

Kelly Jones has been an active instructional coach in Madison WI for the past 13 years. In addition to engaging in coaching conversations with teachers, she designs professional development, facilitates team meetings & acts as data coordinator. Kelly is a National Board Certified Teacher with a Masters in ESL.
