The Art Department at Edgewood College offers a variety of majors that will guide your development in art as well as prepare you for careers and advanced studies.

Majors in graphic design, web design, art therapy, art and design teaching, and minors in photography, art, and art history, deliver relevant coursework through small classes and individual mentoring by experienced faculty.

The Art Department provides internships, field experiences, interdisciplinary study, exhibition and study abroad opportunities. Community engagement through partnerships, project collaboration, and faculty initiatives in the diverse and lively setting of Madison involve students directly in experiencing and shaping the art and culture in the state of Wisconsin.

Talent Scholarships are available for qualified students who plan to major in Art, Art and Design Teaching, Art Therapy, Graphic Design, or Web Design and Development. Admission to the College and a portfolio review are required.

THE STREAM

The Art Department is housed in a 44,000-square-foot visual and theatre arts center that is home to:

- Studio space dedicated to graphic design, drawing, painting, paper-making, printmaking, sculpture, ceramics, photography, video, web design, motion graphics, and multi-media.
- A specialized laboratory-learning classroom for Art Therapy and Art & Design Teaching programming.
- A skylit atrium ideal for informal gatherings and conversation.
- A professional, well-lit, climate controlled art gallery, with additional public spaces for students to exhibit work.

EDGEWOOD COLLEGE GALLERY

The Edgewood College Gallery is a rich educational and cultural resource for the College community and the Madison area. Works of art in traditional and contemporary media are presented in individual and group exhibitions of local, regional, and internationally recognized artists as well as student and faculty shows. Exhibition openings, gallery talks, lectures, artist workshops, and other events serve as opportunities for dialogue and the exchange of ideas between exhibiting artists, the College community, and the public.

PAINTED FOREST

In 2004, the Kohler Foundation gifted the Painted Forest, located in Valton, Wisconsin, to Edgewood College. The College maintains this important folk art treasure and fosters its role in educating students, artists, researchers, and the general public. The Edgewood College Art Studio and Study Center, also located in Valton, provides space for workshops, lectures, retreats, performances, and artist residencies.
